

WriteAway Online Writing Support

ACTIONS & ACHIEVEMENTS 2022

Message from the Chair

While the pandemic continues to have ripple effects in post-secondary delivery of education and student support, WriteAway remains a constant. Students continue to seek online assistance with their assignments through WriteAway, and express deep appreciation for the help they receive. Through surveys students tell us they apply WriteAway feedback not only to the assignment they submitted but also to new assignments, indicating their growth as academic writers - a key goal for WriteAway.

As we approach the ten-year anniversary of WriteAway's launch, I want to share my thanks to the many participating institutions and dedicated service providers that make WriteAway such a valuable source of support for students.

Extending throughout British Columbia and even as far north as Yukon University, WriteAway is a collaborative network of post-secondary institutions working together to provide valuable online writing assistance to students 7 days a week.

2022 Achievements

Implemented Member-Focused Improvements

WriteAway launched new tools and processes to better support member institutions. Improvements included:

- Developing a self-serve model for statistics; institutional coordinators are now able to retrieve student usage stats and tutor response data that best suits their needs
- Creating the WriteAway Coordinator Service Manual to provide operational guidance for the WriteAway Coordinator and Administrative Centre
- Producing new promotional materials that institutions can use to raise awareness of WriteAway on campus and on social media
- Launching a “WriteAway Tip of the Month” email campaign directed at institutional coordinators to provide suggestions for promoting WriteAway

Enhanced Service Provider Training

In response to feedback, service provider training was enhanced in a number of ways:

- Reduced live orientation session from 3.5 hours to a 2-hour session that focuses on service procedures and asynchronous responses
- Introduced an interactive workshop on using the WriteAway software to respond to submissions and troubleshoot common issues
- Developed 10-minute videos focused on the core concepts of training as an alternative to uploading lengthy recordings of the live session

Bolstered the Service

WriteAway received $30,000 in bridge funding from the Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills to bolster the service for the next two years as WriteAway responds to increased usage due to the COVID-19 pandemic. With the funding, WriteAway hired a part-time writing tutor to bridge gaps in staffing hours over the weekends and reduce the demand for auxiliary hours during peak submission periods. Funding was also used to assist institutions that were formerly unable to meet staffing expectations join the service.

As the WriteAway Administrative Centre underwent a lengthy HR process to search for a new coordinator, temporary administrative support was hired to keep scheduling, training, and outreach on-track throughout the year.

Facts & Figures

In 2022:

6,041

student writing assignments received feedback from WriteAway tutors.

20

institutions in two provinces and one territory participated in WriteAway.

78

A Look Ahead to 2023

- WriteAway will complete the process of hiring a new Coordinator to oversee and manage the service at the Administrative Centre.
- WriteAway will undergo action planning to determine what activities to prioritize in the coming years.
- WriteAway Advisory Committee Terms of Reference will be updated to ensure alignment with service host BC ELN and BC ELN’s other service areas.
- WriteAway will celebrate 10 years! The Advisory Committee will discuss how to celebrate the occasion.

“It was really nice to get not only some notes about improvements, but also compliments about the strengths of my work! Thank you.”
